Commissioner for Patents

I certify that this correspondence is facsimile-transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (571-273-8300) on 29 NOV 2006:

Christopher John Rudy: Christopher John Rudy 29 NOV 2006.

Sir:

Please enter the present amendment.

This amendment more particularly points out and distinctly claims the invention. In particular, it makes more clear that in claim 13 as amended by the Amendment filed on September 21, 2006 the word, "agent," is deleted in the last line of the claim. No new matter is entered hereby.

This amendment may be entered because no new consideration is required, and the proposal eliminates a clerical ambiguity. The scope of the claimed invention would not be altered hereby. Only on even date was the clerical ambiguity in claim 13 discovered.

Prompt and favorable action is solicited.

Respectfully,

Dated: November 29, 2006 A.D.
